To

The Collector,

Bellary.

Respected Sir,

I, Meghamma, widow of late Mr. R. Anantha Sasthrulu, clerk Taluk Office Hospet, beg to bring the following few lines for your kind consideration and for favourable orders.

5601 5504/41

My husband, late Mr. R. Anantha Sasthrulu suddenly expired on 30-9-41 at about 3-30 P.M. due to heart failure. He has left behind him myself and four minor children aged from four months to ten years. All his ancesterial property except one dry land at Palthur in Anantapur District was attached and sold by the Co-operative authorities towards realisation of debts due to them, not exactly by my husband, but by his friends and relatives, for whom he stood as surety. One of these, with a view to dupe my husband, secretly applied to the civil Court when he was away from Hospet on transfer and got himself declared insolvent and thus made my husband entirely responsible for the repayment of the full loan amount of more than Rs 1000/-. In this connection it may not be out of point if I mention that my husband, myself, and my children were compelled to maintain ourselves within Rs 5 to 6 a month only, for nearly five or six years as almost all the rest of his pay was also being attached by the Civil Court decrees towards realisation of the above said dues, in addition to the attachment and sale of all the immovable properties including the house at Hospet. It was also learnt that even in realising the above said dues by selling the above said properties in auction much injustice was done to my husband, as they were sold to much lower amounts than their real worth and in some cases even less than half their actual cost.

Thus I am made to starve now with my

with my children on ~~accountxx~~ account of his sudden and unexpected premature death. The only land that was left unsold at Palthur was also since disposed of by my husband and the small amount thus realised was utilised in purchasing a small house for us to dwell in. Except this house, He has left no other property either movable or immovable upon which I can maintain myself and my poor children.

My husband has served in the Revenue department for more than 20 years and all these years he worked to the entire satisfaction of his superiors. I am proud to submit that he did justice to his post even to the last hour of his death.

In the above circumstances, I request that you will kindly consider my poor state and grant me compassionate gratuity for the future ~~maintain~~ maintenance of myself and my children till they can be sufficiently educated and made fit to eak out something.

For which act of kindness I shall as in duty bound ever pray for your long life and prosperity.

2. Your N. Ref. 4869/41 dated 10.10.41 (enclosed)

Sri.R.Anantha Sastri (the husband of the petitioner) was a permanent clerk of this office and suddenly died of heart failure on the afternoon of 30th September 1941. He was confirmed as clerk in the Revenue Department with effect from 1.9.30 and had put in a qualifying service of eleven years at the time of his death. He was drawing a substantive pay of Rs.58/- a month for seven months prior to his death. He leaves behind him his widow and four minor children (2 sons and 2 daughters) with none excepting the widow to take care of them. She is reported to have three brothers who have no ostensible means of living and who are not in a position to help the family. The widow has also no parents or other relatives to help her and her children in dis ress. The deceased has left no property of any kind except a small house for the purchase of which he has borrowed Rs.150/- from the Government servants Co-operative society and this loan is still outstanding. He has not insured his life nor is he a member of the Non Gazetted Mutual Benefit fund. In fact, the poor family is subsisting on monthly charity of grain doled out by the sympathetic neighbours. On the 1st of this month the minor son of the deceased had come to the office and out of pity, the clerks subscribed among themselves and paid him a paltry sum of Rs.4/- and odd. Such is the miserable state to which the famil, has been reduced owing to the most unexpected death of the bread winner.

2. Out of the salary which the deceased was drawing he has not saved anything.

he has not saved anything except a G.P. Fund of about Rs.150/- or so (the correct figure may kindly be ascertained from the Treasury Deputy Collector's office) and he possessed of no property in the form of either gold or silver. What little he has to his credit in the G.P. Fund, will have to go to the loan in the co-operative society and nothing goes to the family maintenance.

3. Article 354 (a) of the C.S.R. contemplates that it is the duty of the Government servant himself to provide for his family but in effect this is not possible for the low paid clerks in these days of economic depression when the prices of all commodities are prohibitively high. The deceased could have possibly made some provision had it not been for the fact that some of his friends to whom he had stood as surety for the loan taken by them in co-operative socieites, betrayed him with the result that he had to make good these amounts by disposing of what property he had possessed. In this way, he was reduced to pauperism in previous years, and at a time when he was just beginning to adjust things the cruel death snatched him away leaving his wife and children in utter helplessness. This, I submit is a very fit case wherein the Government have to take pity on the family of the deceased Government servant who rendered quite satisfactory service during his life time.

4. I recommend that a gratuity (extraordinary) not exceeding 12 months salary which Mr. [illegible] was drawing at the time of death may be granted in this case. The service register of the deceased clerk and the record of enquiry are enclosed for reference.
